

Take a Little Quiet Time Journal

“To inspire moments of peace and satisfaction”

The makers of this journal were inspired to name their company Brush Dance by a story of a Yurok Indian healing ritual that goes by the same name. A young boy is seeking answers about the meaning and importance of this ritual. He asks why his uncle is taking so much care in mending his headdress for the last night of the dance, when no one will be able to see it needs repair due to the darkness of night. The uncle explains to him the importance of self-knowledge and self-respect, relating that he could not respect himself if he did not do all he could to help the one needing healing. He expressed that it would be better not to attend the dance at all than to attend without giving it his all. So, this journal's creators view their company name as a constant reminder of their standards and goals – to strive for excellence and to be open, honest, and true to themselves and to those they touch.

We all experience a lot of change in our lives, along with crucial turning points. It would be nice to have even a moment in which we did not need or want for anything more than what we have. This journal's creators want to share this experience with you. This journal's message to “take a little quiet time every day” is their way of inspiring you to experience peace and satisfaction when you need it most. It is designed to help you stop, feel, and appreciate the magnitude of your life. This hard-cover, wire-bound journal is lined on every odd page and unlined on every even page. 7”W x 8½”H, 150 pages. #25113103

Take a Little Quiet Time Journal - This journal's message to “take a little quiet time every day” will inspire you to experience peace and satisfaction when you need it most. It is a hard-cover, wire-bound journal that is lined on every odd page and unlined on every even page.

Sacred Marriage Hexagon Candle

“Created with a splash of color, a focused thought and a touch of magick”

One very special night, magick entered the lives of the crafters of these candles. They were inspired by a “visitor” – a wizard of ancient Wales (shown through a crystal) who had worked closely with the Fairy World. With his guidance, they have worked to build a link between the worlds using the power of color. The Sacred Marriage candle is a unique blend of extraordinary pure white and rose hues with a rose fragrance. This combination was created with the help of the guides.

Beyond its eye-catching appeal, it's a powerful tool for growth. This candle is designed to promote perfect love, two people with one heart and one life. Through this union of body, mind and spirit comes abundance, sharing, laughter and joy. This candle stimulates self-knowledge and balance through vibration, induced by its color and the energy of its creation. Already endowed with purpose, your ritual or ceremony only serves to enhance this candle's intent. Burn time approx. 60 hours. 9”H. #13134110

Sacred Marriage Hexagon Candle, a unique blend of extraordinary pure white and rose hues with a rose fragrance. This candle is designed to promote perfect love, two people with one heart and one life.

Sweet Blessing Kit

“Alive and singing with Spirit”

The small, family-owned and operated business that produces this blessing kit in Sedona focuses on quality and respect for our sacred planet. Each year, they gather the natural ingredients from the plants' native habitats. By consciously wild-crafting their products and honoring the Spirits, they ensure these sacred gifts will continue to be pure and available to future generations. Whether the family or a member of its network of highly-skilled craftspeople and native friends make a particular product, great care and spirit is put into using every part of the plants harvested so nothing is wasted.

Within this sweet blessing kit, you'll find a book of prayers, a sweet blessings medicine bag, and the copal (for clarity and protection) or lavender (for transformation or unity) you've selected to use in your prayer. This kit includes all the elements needed to bless your home, bring love and sweetness into your life, and connect in harmony, with both your spirit and the spirit of all living things. The maker's wish is that these blessings “will enrich your life in many ways.”

Copal Sweet Blessing Kit – #21126101

Lavender Sweet Blessing Kit – #21126115

Sweet Blessing Kit - This kit includes all the elements needed to bless your home and connect in harmony, with both your spirit and the spirit of all living things. You'll find a book of prayers, a sweet blessings medicine bag, and copal or lavender to use in your prayer.